Staff update

5:17 p.m.

Librarian I Angela Barker and Library Assistant Marjorie Knox shared their library experiences and details of the various programs they manage.

The Albany Public Library hosts a Reader's Digest Cookbook Club that meets monthly. There is limited participation, and patrons can sign up on the website.

The Library also offers a Homebound Delivery Service. In response to several questions from Borst, Barker and Knox shared that 23 patrons are using the service and that to be qualified patrons must live in city limits, have an active library card, and be unable to come into the building physically. Items can be delivered to retirement homes and are sometimes left on the doorstep.

Other programs include Adult Anime Night, Interlibrary Loans, and Test Proctoring Services. On behalf of the Board, Borst thanked Marjorie and Angela for attending the meeting.

In response to questions from Borst and Hart, Ikenouye stated that the Library of Things is officially up and running and has several items ready for checkout. The items can be found in the library's online catalog, but there is also a link on the Library's homepage that takes you directly to them.

Ikenouye shared details on the final Summer Reading enrollment totals.

Adjournment

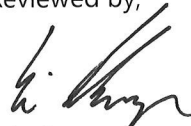

Hearing no further business, Borst adjourned the meeting at 5:38 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Elise Schuh
Administrative Services Coordinator
