Business from the Commission

5:17 p.m.

Board Member Bob Brown raised concerns about federal library funding and asked whether the City Council had taken any action. City Councilor Steph Newton-Azorr responded that the Council is working on the issue. She acknowledged the limited support at the federal level but noted that the State Library remains supportive. Newton-Azorr suggested that the Library Board draft a letter of support for the Council to endorse. Several Board members emphasized the importance of continued library funding. Borst expressed appreciation for the Friends of the Library, who have helped offset the lack of city funding for materials.

Roberts reminded the Library Board to RSVP for the upcoming Volunteer Appreciation Dinner on May 2.

The Board also discussed the recent staff In-Service, which included training on de-escalation techniques and book challenge procedures. This led to a broader conversation about book bans and their impact on the community. In response to a question from Sandberg, Ikenouye explained that while the Albany Public Library currently requires a separate form for each book challenge, the policy is under review to potentially include clearer language about limits on multiple book challenges.

MOTION: Brown moved to have a letter of support for the library written and sent to the Board for review and comments. Borst seconded it and it passed (6-0).

Staff Updates

5:41 p.m.

Library Director Eric Ikenouye shared that the planned summer internships for high school students are still in development and should come together soon. In response to a question from Brown, Ikenouye stated that interns will primarily be working in the Youth area this year, but there will also be opportunities for them to gain experience in other areas.

Ikenouye shared data comparing the Albany Public Library to libraries in similarly sized communities. In response to several questions from the Board, he clarified that the population shown on the chart reflects the library's service area rather than the city population, and that Total Expenditures per Capita include staffing costs.

He also provided an update on the ongoing budget process and gave details about the library's operating costs. Ikenouye noted that the Facilities Master Plan was approved and is included as part of the next biennial budget. The plan will help define existing services and spaces and identify areas for improvement.

Ikenouye shared that several staff members will be attending the Oregon Library Association conference, which offers valuable opportunities to engage with peers from other libraries.

Next Meeting Date

The next regularly scheduled meeting is on Tuesday, May 27th, 2025

MEMO

TO: Albany Public Library Board

FROM: Eric Ikenouye, Library Director

DATE: May 22, 2025 for the May 27, 2025 Library Board Meeting

SUBJECT: Director's Report

Board Members,

Thank you all for the letter you presented to the City Council. I would especially like to recognize Chair Roberts for speaking to the Council, which is a daunting task. She represented the board and the library with great enthusiasm and care.

This month, we do not have any items that require board action.

Supervising Librarian April Spisak will attend to talk all things Summer Reading, as we "Level Up" for our launch on May 31st.

Librarian Kora Daelyn will also attend this meeting to discuss the creation of our Tween Space and collections that she has established. Kora also runs a Tween Book Club that is a blast, that is a great time.

I may not be in attendance as the second night of the City Budget hearing is tentatively scheduled for the same time.

Thank you for your service,

Eric
